Mr. Ed Rochette, Chairman
National Coin Week
P. O. Box 2366

Dear Ed,

File 6

1969

National Coin Week was not formally or actively observed by Corpus Christi Coin Club chiefly because one of our members was competing as an individual and everyone was busy encouraging Gladys. And let me make a point of the fact that her activity WAS individual. Friends vrought pictures of food and found out about meetings but Gladys was the one who used the pictures in posters and scrapbook and it was Gladys who made the talks, set up the exhibits and rotated them and distributed coins to youngsters and periodicals to adults to promote the hobby. She made an absolutely super-human effort insisting that she must do it all alone without help in setting up exhibits or compiling the scrapbook! We all marvel at her.

Corpus Christi Coin Club did order one-year subscriptions to COINage magazine in January as gifts to 14 junior high libraries thinking that this is the age when young people become actively interested in hobbies. A 15th subscription was ordered in February.

Club members took official National Coin Week posters to 17 secondary school libraties, 2 elementary schools and Del Mar Junior College. Librarians in junior highs who had received COINage were very cordial and cooperative. Displays in the several schools ranged from simple posting of the notice to bulletin board and coin books-for-borrowing to actual coin exhibits in high schools by 2 of our junior members. From this came a request to which the club responded by ordering gift subscriptions to COINage for 7 high school libraries in the area. We have been doind a little toward promotion of the hobby, though not competetively, and hope we are not too late to, maybe, be included in the final report of your committee.

School is out and I'm beginning to get a few things done that have been on my list that just seems to keep growing. It seems I'll never get caught up but that is probably good.

One of my toughest assignments is the "News Round-up - ANA" which George wrote each month for TNA News. It's tough to try to bring a fresh approach. You have had your hands full lately and haven't sent much to work with. I'll welcome suggestions. The June copy is about the library.

Cordially,

(Mrs.) Norma Mather, Sec'y
